

Membership rates for the Association of Surgeons of Great Britain and Ireland

The Association welcomes members from all surgical fields. We represent surgeons involved in the all areas of the general surgical care of patients, from training to consultant practice.

Those categories of membership that include the British Journal of Surgery have been reduced by £12 for 2017. To avail of the prices displayed on the ASGBI website as of 07/12/2016, members must pay their subscriptions in full by direct debit. Where this cannot be accommodated, for example in the Republic of Ireland, then credit card payments will be accepted.

If a member has not paid their subscription by the 28th February 2017, then the membership rate will increase according to the figures previously agreed at the Annual General Meeting. See table below.

If a member fails to pay their annual subscription within four months of the renewal date, they will be lapsed.

If you no longer wish to be a member of the Association then you must notify the office in advance of subscription renewals. This should preferably be done via email.

Refunds of subscription fees paid will be accommodated for until the 28th February 2017 subject to a 10% admin fee. Following this date, no refund will be made.

Your membership with the ASGBI coincides with your adherence to these Terms and Conditions.
